

ISM Worker Questionnaire

1. Is the situation in Palestine what you expected, from the coverage on the British Media?

This question was asked to determine how much 'real' information the British Media has provided general members of the public. From this, I would be able to assess the scale of reality, shown to the British Audience.

2. How accurately do you think the British Media represent the current situation in Palestine?

This question is similar to the first, however rather than focus on the scale of reality, it focuses on the 'honesty' of that reality depicted by the British Media. This question was designed to allow me to derive the accuracy of the facts distributed within the British Media.

3. Is there anything you've personally seen or witnessed, that you think should be brought to the attention of the mass British audience?

This is a question more for my practical artifact. Using responses from this question, I would be able to identify areas of the Palestinian situation that may have been avoided, or missed by the British media. This would allow me to have an informed and knowledgeable foundation, before selecting an appropriate route to take, when it comes to creating a practical piece.

4. What is it, if anything, that you think the British media are missing from their coverage?

From this question, I was hoping for answers such as 'religious disputes' or 'focus on the people of Palestine/Israel'. Despite me wanting a narrow window of answers, I left the question open, as I might receive responses that I have not myself thought of, and this would be very advantageous to me, as I will broaden my knowledge and hopefully understanding of the current situation.
